Gossipy Notes on Circus Day and What Was Soon.

nuch frequented circus lais come, filled our streets with bright colors and gay music, and gone, and in the silence that follows the flash and glitter, and the sweet or otherwise music, as you car

happens to be cultivated or not, one falls to philosophizing and thinks if one wishes to study human nature just go ont on the streets circus day and the world is before you, even in the streets The lessons you learn are the same ones you would have found years ago in mughty London. Yes, or even in the Garden of Eden, when the world was young and old Time was a dimpled, pink toed, silken-haired baby, and Even the morning air sweet with the perfune of the apple blossoms that kent falling around but the perfune of the appire biossoms that Rent falling around her, first mot Adam, and though like a modest maden, her lips never uttered a word, her eyes said "Good morning, Adam, dear, usu't it warm to-day." And Adam looked, and saw her eyes were bright, her cheeks rosy, and he arms were white and rounded, and he begins to wonder if the camely deals, reserving arms were white and rounded, and no began to wonder if the county clerk issued marriage becauses on Sunday, and where he could find a Justice of the Peace,

Yes you would learn the same lessons, because human - nature is what it alway has been, and always will be a little more refined and cultivated, a little more subject to control, perhaps, and yet the human heart is like a scene in India, rule in fragrance, luxurumt in foliage, brilliant in fragrance, luxurant in foliage, brilling in colors, tender and laughing in the sunshine type with tagers indden in the jungles. And Monday as the procession wound past, you saw them all, the rich and the poor, the gay and the sorrowful, the young and glad, the old and sad. The devoit Christian who because she worships God in a lofty edifice, with a light smeak above and a forther in her bound. scorns her bumble sister whose sighs repentance have floated heavenward with the strains of the Salvation Army band and who has chasped bunds with Christ in the dust of the streets, and the mar whose chpped hair shown more hitle bare spots and dents than an old tin can, and who unconscious of his own defects thanks his lucky stars that he isn't hald like that other fellow over there, and the good, confiling people who think the world is good enough, and if there is any wickedness it isn't any nearer home than

New York or Boston.

And there is the electric car, where the white hand of a little gulf forces the ord anistocial, liketricity, to descend from the starry heights of heaven and take the place of a mule on the Decatur street on line, the car filled with folks whose the third with the same pangs of puesion and despan, that stirred the scale of those who rode on assess and donkeys through the streets of Jerusalem long ngo.
Then there are the suspicious, who haven't any faith in any thing, not even in a good dinner, and who when they got to heaven, it they ever do got there, will have little shares of doubt running in time, and magne it is only a charming soundive entrance hall to the other place. And there is the youth and the maden who wander the streets clasping hands utterly obbyious to everything earthly except their own happiness, and their arcthopeuple who smile in derising a good natured pity at their simplicity And yet, my curping critics, don't you only them down deep in your hearts, and wouldn't you give all your wisdom for the old days of youth and inexperience, when everything was gold that abtraced now you were so happy, careless and healthy that even a five cent glass of carele lease Yes, they are all on the streets, in the and glare, flashing lights, gay sounds, variety, rapid mayoment and we find them all there. The world likes to be amused and would rather laugh for a uiguto iliun weep nil day -

Delightful circus! Sensible world!

The members of the Deentur Zounves had a gay time last evening in the dining room of the St. Nicholas Hotel, it being the occusion of a prize drill in the manual of arms for a beautiful badge offered by Managor E. A. West, who organized the company and has faithfully instructed them in military knowledge to such a degree that the boys are way up in Upton's tactice. When the interesting exhibition b gan one side of the room was brightoned with the presence of purents and friends of the Zonaves, who looked with undiagnised admiration upon the young soldiers as they came to a company front obedient to the clearly excepted command of Captain Hdl. All appeared in bright uniform, 28 in line, eager for the contest, The competent judges were facut, W. F. Colladay, and First Sergount Frank Cassell, of the Docatur Guards. The York may as well be regarded accrettled, andges took a good position at a table and in order the 28 boys began the silent drill, making in all 27 movements. The best score to be made was 57, and every error made observed by the judges took of a point. The boys had been practicung for the contest for moveral weeks.

The competitors were Barthologow, E. Roe, T. Alexander, W. McBrido, Haines, Guyton, Roberta, Lewis, W. Housem, Dellaven, Smith, Hays, Bunnatead, Starr, A. McBride, Millikin, Boyer, H. Housum, Weaver, C. Housum, Hurd, S. Alexander, Quinlin, Durfee, Froeman, Stevens, Laux, and Glon Ros. Each in turn went trade country. They have been essuring through the drill, and after an anxious us that strikes are to be expected only interval, the indeed appointed that Carlo interval, the judges announced that Earle Bartholomew and Ed. Roe had tred, each recover; a score of 48 points. Ed and Earle came to the front again and went through the movements, the result being another tie 42 points each. Another meet of not far from $16,000,000 for the trial was necessary, such competitor being bland folded to botter demonstrate the bundlerity of the help with the treties. The last acere gave the prize to Earle Earthelenew 31 to 42, Ed Roe making but one more error. A Train-Load of Cincinnati Excursionists Saved by a Chance, Collemnes, O., Ang. 31.—The Cincin-natioxergisionists to Putsburgh on the Midland railroad, came near mooting with a disastrous necliont yesterday morning. The train runs exceedingly fast, and when about thirteen miles from Columbus, the engine struck two rali-roud fies and a stone which had been placed on the track by some distard. The engine was derailed and the Irain ran fully one-sixth of a mile with the air-brakes on and the lever reversed. Fortunately the wheels of the front part o the engine went on the outside of the rails, and lie wheels on the rear on the inside. This prevented overturning and rolling down a high embankment and making a terrible accedent.

ons Betails of the Business.-The Native Hare and the Foreign Ermines

Furs in summer? Yes, they're not so incummon as to attract findic attention but these are not worn over fair shouls ders clad in lawn. They are heaped in various shapes of manufacture in the shop of a furrier down in the French quarter. At least one thousand men and women in New York are busied in makunploying many score of workmen, and here are dingy little shops where a few journeymen work together, with small apital, low reat and moderate profits. in this preficular shop there are only four merial work - just the aumber 10quired to complete a grament under the livision of labor usual in the fur basi-

One man stands at a counter with a pric of musicial akins at his left hand and in his right a kee i little kaife, shaped of a bird. The skin of the firs has been dampened so that it is plant. The cutter, as the is called, seizes a skin, turns the fur down and rapidly cuts out defects with his bird a wing knife.

SCARCITY OF PERFECT SKISS. Scarcely one skin in a bundred is per-fect. There are shot holes, scars from bites and scratches, tears and other dam skin into twenty strips and squares. About 20 per cent, of the fur is lost by the process of cutting: though the smail at pieces, even those not more than an inch square, are carefully saved, so long s they are well covered with hair, As the knife slips, through the leather you notice that the under side of the

tur i sa rich, goblen brown, while the outer surface is black. The fur has been dyed, but the dye has not penetrated to the km. The dyeing and curing are done classifiers at factories which receive the raw skins by the thousand from the west and south. They come turned wrong side out and looking like great Japanese shippers from having been executed and dried by the trapper on pointed alongles.

From the cutter's table the skins go o the sewer. He sits in a corner and work in strong sewing machine, whose needle is easily driven through the akin, Ordinary, stout thread 1st used, and the sewer numages to piece, together the vation) scrape in such a way that no seam shows on the harry side. The seams on the under side appear like straight ridges or cords. The skin comes from the sewer pulchwork of leather almost as strongy held together as an uncut pelt, -From the sewer the uniterial goes to he blocker. In this instance it is a neaff. that they are making. The "block" is in sever pieces that fit together and form an implement that looks almost exactly like a big whiel hub. Thoskin, which to been sewn end to end so us to form a hollow extinder, is placed on the block form. It extends a little beyond the block, and a little wooden disk is placed in each end of the latter. To these diskthe ends of the skin are miled, and the whole (sing 1) then placed in the window

When the skin is partly dried it is removed from the block and turned over to the lini her. He pals in wadding and ining and sews on the cord and tassels, f the mill is to be thus ornimented Finally the far is carefully brashed until it i cannoth and glossy. Then it is put into a round pasteboard box, ready to be shipped to the merchant, through whom it is distributed to the retail dealers here and el ewhere

A HOME-SHELL IN THE DIBERAL CAMP.

Lagnor, Aug. 30.—Mr. Balfour's promise to bring in a hill for the endowmen of an Irish Catholic University, coupled with Mr. Parnell's immediate acceptance of the proposal, creates almost a parical amongst the Liberal leaders, who see that this new departure of the Tory Government means, the disruption of their party. It is certain that Mr. Parnell ha
